WINTER STOCK SHOW

The annual winter stock show and farmers' conference which opened Friday of last week in the town hall closed Saturday with the exhibition and judging of stock at the government stock farm. About 300 people were on the ground. The first day's program opened with a meeting of the Cow Testing association. President Thomas of Middlebury college gave the opening address, followed by George M. Rommell of the bureau of animal industry. C. M. Winslow secretary of the Ayershire Breeders' association, and Dana E. Jones, tester of the county association. In the afternoon came the farmers' institute at which addresses were made by several from the State Agricultural college and Mr. Rommell.

The evening was occupied with illustrated addresses by two experts of the bureau of animal industry, Messrs F. R. Marshall and G. Arthur Bell. Both of these were unusually interesting and held the close attention of the audience.

Saturday morning came the demonstration and judging of stock at the Morgan Horse farm at Weybridge at 10 o'clock. The judging was in the main barn where seats had been provided for the spectators. Refreshments were served at noon. Previous to the opening of the exercises Judge J. E. Weeks, president of the Addison County Agricultural society, delivered an address of welcome to the visitors. Mr. Rommell of the bureau of animal husbandry followed in a strong plea for the success of these exhibitions and hoped they would become a feature of the work of the department in this county. He said he wanted the farmers, their sons and daughters, to come to these shows and be helped by them. A boy can take an unpromising animal and often develop it into a valuable one. If they failed, they should not be discouraged.

Those having the business affairs of the institute in charge were President John M. Thomas of Middlebury college, John E. Weeks, L. E. Avery, William Noonan of Vergennes, and Charles Rogers.

VERMONT ALUMNI BANQUET

There will be a decided innovation in the entertainment of the Vermont Alumni association at the college on the 28th of this month. In addition to the banquet and its music and speeches, the association is invited to attend a matinee performance of Robertson's comedy "School," recently given by the students at the gymnasium with success, directed by Miss Throop, and under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. There has been some thought of taking this play to Rutland, but it was not possible to secure a free date at the Playhouse, and meanwhile there have been several requests that it be repeated here in the town hall. The visit of the Alumni association seemed an excellent occasion for it, and the time has been set at four o'clock in the afternoon to accommodate those who may come on the 3:15 train. The first six or seven rows will be reserved for the guests of the college, and all remaining seats will be placed on sale for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. Silver Bay fund.

"The Lady of Shalott."

Music lovers of Middlebury will be glad to learn of the presentation of Tennyson's cantata, "Lady of Shalott," as interpreted and set to music by Wilfred Bendall under the auspices of the Women's Musical association of Middlebury college.

The cantata was once before presented by the women of the college under the direction of Mrs. Walter Howard, and was well received at that time, although numerous requests have been made since then for a re-presentation of the cantata not until now, with its added talent and with the supervisory services of Musical Director Royce, has the association felt able for the task.

The caste will be accompanied by a twelve piece orchestra under the leadership of Robert H. Hill, and a chorus of fifty female voices.

The program will also include a concert, the first concert given by the association since the presentation of "The Legend of Miana" in 1911. The first part of the evening will be devoted to the concert, which will include several selections by the orchestra, two readings, several numbers by a ladies' quartette, a trio, and a number by the Musical association chorus. The second part of the programme will be the presentation of the cantata.

The play will be given in the town hall Friday evening, March 20. Reserved seats will be on sale during the week at Saffers' drug store.

Dinner of the Board of Trade.

A most enjoyable and profitable occasion will be the dinner by the Middlebury Board of Trade, to be held at The Addison at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, March 26th, at which former Attorney-General Clark C. Fitts will be guest of the board, and who will deliver an address. Other prominent men are expected to be here and to speak. Appropriate music will be secured for the occasion, and it is hoped that the members of the Board of Trade will each one take it upon himself to work for the success of the gathering. On the 26th many business men and prominent farmers of the county will be in town, and an invitation will be extended to these gentlemen to attend the dinner and enjoy the addresses, which will be on topics of great interest and profit to all.

The local Board of Trade is gaining in numbers, many desirable additions being made to the original list. It is believed by the projectors of the idea that Middlebury will have substantial reason in time to appreciate the benefit of such an organization.

Addison County Court.

Deputy Sheriff N. J. Sanford has drawn the following men to serve as grand jurors for the special term of Addison county court, which is to convene here Monday, March 16: Addison, Richard H. Holcomb; Bridport, Cyrus H. Smith; Bristol, Richard H. Smith; Cornwall, William Lavalley; Ferrisburg, B. W. Collins; Granville, Edgar W. Ford; Hancock, R. D. Claffin; Lincoln, Loren E. Jackman; Middlebury, F. G. Brookins; Monkton, E. H. Palmer; New Haven, Frank L. Eastman; Orwell, A. R. Bush; Panton, J. G. Spaulding; Salisbury, J. W. Pittridge; Shoreham, F. E. Platt; Starksboro, James W. Casey; Vergennes, Charles L. LeBoeuf; Waltham, W. H. Jackman.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks for the sympathy and kind words spoken by pastor and friends since our little one passed away, also to the Grange and other friends for the beautiful floral offering.
